

Accredited calibration offers certainty that your lab device is accurate and reliable.

All Traceable® products, including TraceableLIVE® connected data loggers, are precalibrated to meet the most stringent quality requirements for measuring and test equipment. This means that each Traceable product arrives with a NIST-traceable certificate of calibration from our A2LA-accredited ISO/IEC 17025:2017 (1750.01) laboratory. This certificate needs to be renewed every two years.

Recalibrating your devices and equipment is an important part of lab maintenance. It helps your lab:

- Maintain compliance with regulatory agency best practices
- Ensure accuracy and repeatability in experiments
- · Maintain traceability

Your devices and equipment need to be recalibrated once a year. Learn more about calibrating your lab instruments at coleparmer.com/calibration-services.

Traceable® products have an individually numbered Traceable certificate that ensures accuracy from our ISO/IEC 17025:2017(1750.01) calibration laboratory accredited by A2LA. It indicates traceability of measurements to the SI units through NIST or other recognized national measurement institutes (NMI) that are signatories to the CIPM Mutual Recognition Arrangement. Each product goes through an intense vetting process before it can carry the Traceable name, saving you both time and money by not having to calibrate separately.
